HARRY POTTER AND THE PHILOSOPHER'S STONE

Harry Potter lives with the Dursley uncles, where he is treated badly until he is 11 years old. It is at this age that the young wizard begins to receive letters from the school at Hogwarts. On the night of his birthday Harry is visited by Hagrid (a giant being who works for the headmaster of Hogwarts), who reveals that Harry is the son of wizards and has been invited to join the school of witchcraft. The truth is all revealed to Harry Potter, that his parents were killed by the terrible wizard Voldemort and that his scar was the mark of the assassination attempt that Harry had suffered. This first book introduces the reader to the main characters in the series and creates an aura of "sympathy" for the main character (Harry).

Harry in his first "school" year at Witch School is introduced to Ronald Wesley and Hermione Granger (his future best friends).

Harry is introduced to the wizarding world and discovers that he is very famous for having survived Voldemort's attack.

After several adventures, the boys together discover that the philosopher's stone (according to legend has the power of immortality) is kept in the school of Witchcraft. Suspicious that a school teacher is trying to steal the stone, they decide to keep the stone themselves. Upon reaching the place where the philosopher's stone was hidden, Harry is reunited with Voldemort, who has taken possession of another professor's body. However Voldemort fails in his mission and runs away from Harry who passes the Philosopher's Stone to the school principal to destroy it.
